TWYMAN'S MILL, VA., June 8.—

Mr. Mercer Bruce, who has smallpox at James City, is improving. No new cases have developed yet. Several merchants around there have moved into small houses, with only a few groceries and small quantities of goods, as a precaution against losing their entire stock should more smallpox develop.

There was no preaching in any churches in that section last Sunday, and no large gatherings of any kind are allowed.

They are progressing nicely with the work on the new Episcopal church at

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ROXBURY, VA. June 8.—The neighborhood of Wright's Cross Roads is now in a state of great excitement. The cause is the kidnapping or wandering away of a hoy, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Stokes, who lately settled in that neighborhood from North Dakota.

He went out of the house Monday afternoon and has not been seen since. The heighbors buwe left though the farms and joined in the hunt, but no trace can be found to lead to the whereabouts of the child. Last night the hat he wore was left in the bugsy at the barn. The grief of the hold people is pitful beyond description. The child is about eleven years old, with light curly hair and blue eyes. When he left home he wore a black callee shirt, blue overalls and shoes. He can scarcely be understood when talking. The child's parents live about three miles from Richmond on the Creighton Road, where they lately bought a farm Mr. and Mrs. William Menics are the names of the parents, who will learn with sorrow of their lost child.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ROANOKE, VA., June S.—As the remains of Susie Haynes, of Stuart, Patrick county, a young woman who committed suicide en account of her lover descring her, lay on the platform of the depot this morning, there were two floral offerings on the coffin. One was from friends of the unfortunate girl, and the other was a bouquet of roses from the man who deserted her.

Her sister came up weeping, and seeing the bouquet on the coffin, told the undertaker to throw it away, as it was an insuit to her dead sister, and it was pitched out on the track, while the sister sobbed over the coffin.

If Thought Desirable to Present Name of Virginian, Would be Glad to Vote for Braxton.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) LYNCHBURG, VA., June 8.-Senator Daniel left this afternoon for Richmond to attend the State convention, which nects there to-morrow. Just before he left the city, the senator was approached by a representative of The Times-Dispatch and asked if he would not make a statement in regard to the many reports that had been published relative to his being chosen the Democratic nominee for Vice-President. "Will your name go before the Virginia convention for nomination for any place on the presidential ticket?" asked the

on the presidential ticket?" asked the reporter.

"Not that I know of," responded Senator Daniel, "and not by any desire or ambition on my part. I have had nothing to do with any movement to that end, and though many letters have been written me, and many articles in the press have appeared favoring some such proposition, I have not at any time encouraged them."

"I am deeply grateful to those who have thought and spoken so kindly of me, but have neither sought or desired to have my name presented for additional honors to the Democracy of the State already so generous to me.

that I have not kept up with political matters at all.

"For over two weeks I have been segregated from the world by a jury trial court, sitting from 9 or 9:30 in the morning to nightfall, and the lawyers, myself included, hard at work at night for next day. This has eliminated me from outside affairs altogether, disabling me to answer private letters or even opening my thing going on that I should have noticed, it has missed my eye. As to speaking out, you can say definitely for me that I stand aside."

Should Consult East.

Should Consult East.

"I have heretofore, in answer to letters, stated my notion that the sentiment of the East should be consulted for the presidency, and that if a suitable man is presented from Indiana, Illinois, lows or Wisconsin, or one that is considered presented from Indiana, Illinois, Iowa or Wisconsin, or one that is considered the best man for the place from that section, he should be favorably considered. The reason is obvious; there's the battlefield, with tendencies to Democracy. The situation should dictate the man, and he should strengthen the line where strengthening is needed. At the same time, if Virginia wants to present one of her sons, I would vote for her choice with pleasure. It would give me special pleasure to vote for Mr. Braxton. He has shown a spirit not only commendable in itself, but so gracious and kindly to me personally, that I would be gratified at an opportunity to show appreciation. All along the line, however," continued the senator. "I would act solely for the success of the Democracy. That would be worth more to this country than the gratification of personal wishes or ambitions. We have a great opportunity. We can carry this country, I believe, if we make no mistake. Let nothing tempt us to do anything but what clear reason dictates. One round hurrsh after election is worth a thousand before it."

(Special to The Times-Dispatch) WILLIAMSBURG, VA., June 8 .- The wedding of Miss Mary Waller Mercer and Mr. Herbert Claiborne Lightfoot, which took place in old Bruton Church at 4 o'clock this afternoon, was one of the most beautiful and interesting ever witnessed in this historic old church, connecting as it does two of the oldest familles in Virginia. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Mercer, and and a descendant of General Hugh Mercer, who was killed at the battle of Princeton, and is a charming young lady. Mr. Lightfoot is a descendant of William Claiborne, one of the first settlers in this country.

liam Claiborne, one of the first settlers in this country.

The church was handsomely decorated with palms, ferns and stately white lilles, and many candles shed a soft light over the impressive scene. The bride came in with her father, who gave her away. She was gowned in an exquisite creation of white chiffon, pleated over white liberty satin, which showed off her girlish loveliness to perfection, and made her a typical June bride.

Her veil was caught with an old pearliph, an heiricom. She carried a shower bouquet of white sweet peas.

The maid of honor was Miss Jean Mercer, only sister of the bride, and looked very charming, in a white lace gown, with pink satin ribbon and a big picture hat of pink tulle, trimmed with pink geupes, and carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas.

Mr. Howell Lightfoot, brother of the groom, was best man. The bridesmalds, Misses Joe McIlwaine, of Petersburg, cousin of the groom; Miss Laura Zimnerman, of Alexandria; Miss Elizabeth Edioe Lamb, Miss Katheryne Morecock, Miss Sue Hundley and Miss Busan Gorden Webb, all of Williamsburg, looked very charming, gowned in white organdy, with big picture hats, made of white tulle and carried white lilles and ferns.
